

BLAIRGOWRIE Bluebell Woods & White Loch

Based on Ordnance Survey mapping with the permission of the Ordnance Survey on behalf of the Controller of Her Majesty's Stationery Office © copyright Perth & Kinross Council

This is also suitable for buggies (with assistance) & bikes.

ROUTE DESCRIPTION:

Distance: 2.5 miles approx.
Approx time: 70 - 80 minutes
Terrain: Both rough and smooth surface
Start: On Ardblair Terrace

- 1 Follow Ardblair Terrace past a small play park and mini football pitch onto a track into the woods. Follow the yellow way mark signs until you reach a junction on the track; turn left.
- 2 Follow the main green "Bluebell Woods" sign. When you reach the farm you'll notice a gate on your right; again way marked. Head through the gate.
- 3 Follow the route round the farm buildings, heading right towards Darroch Wood where you'll cross a stile into the woods; cross it and head right.
- 4 Follow the track round the woods. You'll notice you've almost come full circle when you hit a gate on your right hand side; head through it.
- 5 Take the path across the fields towards farm buildings. From here head right around the farm until you see a red dog bin and a yellow way mark sign crossing a bridge; take it.
- 6 Walk past White Loch and follow the track through Druidsmere Wood onto the main Perth Road; turn left.
- 7 Walk along the main road and head left just past the white "Rosemount" sign heading onto Ardblair Terrace.

In Spring time the woods are full of beautiful bluebells - well worth a look and a photograph. Also look out for wildlife on the White Loch along with a beautiful Iris display late spring/early summer.

Getting to the start of the walk

No 57 or 58 bus routes in Blairgowrie
Car parking on Ardblair Terrace

www.liveactive.co.uk

BLAIRGOWRIE Ardblair Trail via Wellmeadow

Based on Ordnance Survey mapping with the permission of the Ordnance Survey on behalf of the Controller of Her Majesty's Stationery Office © copyright Perth & Kinross Council

This is also suitable for buggies & bikes.

ROUTE DESCRIPTION:

Distance: 1.8 miles approx.

Approx time: 50 - 60 minutes

Terrain: Both rough and smooth surface

Start: The Wellmeadow, Blairgowrie Town Centre

- Starting from the Wellmeadow, head up towards the High Street and follow the road round the corner to the left until you come to Brown Street; turn right.
- Walk past the Town Hall (look out for what's on) and turn left onto George Street. Continue along this road until you come to Newton Street; turn right.
- Don't be daunted by the climb; take your time as you're only going part of the way up. When you reach Newton Terrace turn left.
- Walk along the track onto the Ardblair Trail. You might catch a glimpse of Newton Castle on your right hand side.
- At the end of the track take in the view. Descend down the track onto a main road (be careful in this section as the surface on the track can be loose/slippy). Turn left onto the Dunkeld Road.
- Head back towards Blairgowrie and left again along West George Street to George Street. From here it's just a question of retracing your steps back to the Wellmeadow.

The whole of the Ardblair Trail takes in a large portion of Blairgowrie. Try www.walkhighlands.co.uk for more information and a route description. Look around at the Wellmeadow a pretty green space in the heart of Blairgowrie.

Getting to the start of the walk

No 57 or 58 bus routes in Blairgowrie

Car parking in Town Centre

www.liveactive.co.uk